

Communication can be challenging after a concussion.

Most people recover from a concussion, however, about

20%

of adults and children experience prolonged post-concussion symptoms.

Post-concussion symptoms can include difficulties with:

- Talking
- Reading
- Understanding conversations
- Written expression
- Social interaction

Speech-language pathologists (S-LPs) can provide practical strategies, education, guidance and interventions to help you return to work, school and everyday life.

Find an S-LP near you.
communicationhealth.ca

Speech-Language &
Audiology Canada
Communicating care

