

Your voice is an outward expression of you and gets a lot of use throughout the day.

However, sometimes your voice might need some support to meet all its demands.

I lose my voice all the time.

I can't project my voice.

My voice doesn't match my gender.

I can't sing like I used to.

It hurts to talk.

My voice sounds rough.

People can't hear me.

I run out of air when talking.

Speech-language pathologists have the skills and training to help you find the voice to meet your individual needs.

Make an S-LP part of your voice care team.

Speech-Language &
Audiology Canada
Communicating care