

Are you or someone you love experiencing difficulty swallowing?

You could be experiencing dysphagia, a speech-language pathologist (S-LP) can help.

S-LP's play a key role in the clinical and instrumental assessment of dysphagia.

S-LP's recommend swallow rehabilitation, based on underlying anatomical and physiological findings.

S-LP's work in interprofessional teams to optimize swallowing safety and efficiency, and therefore nutrition and hydration.

S-LP's carefully balance dysphagia risk factors with quality of life, considering the individual and family's preferences, culture and beliefs.
